- "Fantastic. I was introduced to a wealth of information and features available on Britannica Online."* NAPERVILLE, IL
- "Our group found it very informative and productive. We used our training lab and projected the webcast on a large screen and the attendees (at laptops) were able to access the database to perform the same searches as the presenter. All agreed that it gave them a chance to use the tool, which will help them remember what they learned. The webcast is a great way for us to train a group of staff quickly and efficiently. I think it will ensure that they use the database more frequently and effectively."* RICHMOND, VA
